

Michelle Goodwin Calwille

Bio

Michelle Goodwin-Calwile is a retired educator for Greenville County Schools, where she served in various capacities. She was a Family Literacy Teacher, Parent Educator, and Title I Facilitator. Michelle has always served her community with a caring , approachable and accessible spirit. She volunteers at the schools and community centers and mentors teen students in the schools on a weekly basis. She serves on various schools' SIC and PTSA Boards in Area 25, and is a member of the Carolina High School Alumni Association. In addition, Ms. Goodwin-Calwile is a member of the Greenville County Education Association - Retired, South Carolina Education Association, National Education Association, Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc., National Council of Negro Women (NCNW), Democratic Women and Aiken Chapel Baptist Church. She is also the State Regional Director of the Piedmont for the South Carolina Council of Black School Boards Members.

Ms. Goodwin-Calwile earned a Bachelor's degree in fashion merchandising from Winthrop University, a Master of Education degree from Converse College, and a Master of Arts in Educational Leadership and Administration from Furman University. She is presently the Teen Center Director at the Pleasant Valley Connection Center.

Michelle has two grown children, Myai Alexandria Calwile and Asia Fuller Cleveland, and a dear mother, Malenda Lake Goodwin.